THE SELECTION PROCESS

Super Lawyers, a Thomson Reuters business, strictly adheres to a rigorous selection process directed at casting as wide a net as possible, evaluating quality in the most objective possible terms and verifying and validating all data. The only way a lawyer can be selected to Super Lawyers is through this selection process. The determination of whether a lawyer will be placed on the Super Lawyers list is independent of advertising or any other payments. No other legal publisher identifies qualified candidates by using a multistep evaluation process that incorporates peer recognition and professional achievement. Super Lawyers uses a system of nominations, peer evaluation and internal research, which acts as a system of checks and balances. You can find a detailed description of the selection process at superlawyers.com.

If you are in need of an attorney, we believe you will find Super Lawyers a good place to begin your search. But don't base your decision solely on this, or any other source. There are many fine lawyers who may not be included. You need to do your homework. And most importantly, you need to feel comfortable with the person you choose to represent you.

When everyone gets up from the table smiling, it's a good day for transactional lawyer Darlene Marsh. With Burr & Forman in Nashville, she is one of the many exceptional lawyers listed in this Super Lawyers special advertising section.

WALKER, TIPPS & MALONE PLC

THE EXPERTS IN CIVIL LITIGATION

Nationally recognized for its work in civil litigation, Walker, Tipps & Malone PLC undertakes corporate, small business, and individual cases ranging from multimillion-dollar commercial disputes to wrongful death and personal injury claims. The firm represents clients throughout Tennessee and across the United States.

WHEN THE STAKES ARE HIGH The firm's forte is complex litigation with significant consequences. Notable cases include representing The Finish Line in a billion-dollar merger dispute and the Nashville Predators in a dispute with Gaylord Entertainment. The firm frequently represents some of Nashville and Tennessee's largest companies in litigation matters.

The firm also represents plaintiffs and defendants in serious personal injury and wrongful death cases, as well as in economic injury cases. On behalf of plaintiffs, WTM has represented individuals and families in personal injury cases involving automobile collisions, tractor-trailer collisions, automobile manufacturer liability, products liability, medical malpractice, nursing home negligence, fire and burn injuries and death, aviation crashes, and building design and maintenance defects. The firm has been successful in recovering millions of dollars for its clients. In 2012, for example, WTM obtained a $20 million jury verdict in Shelby County, Tenn., in a medical malpractice wrongful death action. In 2009, WTM obtained a $5.5 million jury verdict in a medical malpractice action in Maury County, Tenn., the largest verdict in a personal injury or death case ever obtained in that county.

The firm congratulates its five attorneys selected to the Mid-South Super Lawyers list: John Hayworth (business litigation), Gayle Malone, Jr. (personal injury plaintiff: medical), Scott Sims (business litigation), Bob Walker (business litigation), and Joe Welborn (personal injury plaintiff: general), along with attorneys Charles Malone, Erin Palmer Polly and Jason Callen, who have been selected to the Rising Stars list.
